“ My sisters and I babysat Kaye and Warren's daughter for the better part of a decade as we progressively went through high school. Kaye was an artist, Her art work hung through their home, she designed and made unique Christmas cards every year, and infused every aspect of her life with her talents. She and Warren were remarkable parents. Their daughter required total care. As a family, their love for one another shone clearly. They sought every opportunity for Leslie to have enriching activities. Kaye was a model of love, humanity, creativity, and commitment. A lovely light was extinguished with her passing.

“ Kay was a delight Her quite and mild spirit and strong will to go on. She could not go on because she was not strong enough. She fought a good fight but won the race. Our family will miss her. Someday we all will see her again but she will not be sick. Faith and family

“ I have such good memories of my time with Kaye and her husband, Warren. Kaye and I became close friends after the passing of her husband. We talked, shopped, many lunches at her favorite restaurant, visited her daughter, Leslie every day. Also, watched the weather channel which she enjoyed! A lady who loved fresh flowers and daffodils from her front yard. An absolute Beautiful Lady inside and out! Also, a wonderful and talented seamstress and artist! I will miss her smile, laughter and kindness. A blessing she is at peace. Judy Noe'
